Dennis Price – Ganador Management Services

Dennis Price has been a strong and supportive ally for the business development programs for the broader News Community Media group.

He consults, and adds enormous value, to NCM on various levels including inspirational thinking, topical editorial content, presentation materials and the delivery of both customer facing and staff training workshops and seminars.

His tool kit is extensive with his specialities of retail, business and marketing adding great credibility to our sales development initiatives.

A grand trait that makes Dennis Price endearing is his generosity.

He is great to have on the team.
